

School-to-Prison Pipeline in Indian Country - Call for Papers - Proposal Submission Due Date: January 8, 2015

For more information about the event, visit

<https://conferences.asucollegeoflaw.com/schooltoprison/>

On March 27, 2015, the Arizona State University Law Journal will host a Symposium on Education and Civil Rights in Indian Country. The Symposium will be held in conjunction with a Town Hall forum on the School-to-Prison Pipeline. The conference will bring together individuals to discuss pipeline concerns, experts who have developed successful programs and projects across the country to address pipeline issues, and individuals and organizations from diverse backgrounds who are working toward solutions to this issue.

The Arizona State Law Journal is seeking papers on the School-to-Prison Pipeline or on aspects of Education and Civil Rights in Indian Country. Interested authors and researchers would be expected to present their work at ASU on the morning of March 27, 2015 and to stay to contribute to the Town Hall that afternoon.

Anyone interested in participating should submit a proposal no later than January 8, 2015. Selected participants will be notified by January 22, 2015.

Outlines are due by March 13, 2015 (to be included in the event materials). Draft papers are due by March 27, 2015 and final submissions are due by July 31, 2015.

Proposals should include:

- Statement of interest
- Title of the presentation
- Name, school/organization, phone number and email address of the presenter(s)
- Short summary of the intended topic and approach

Proposals can be submitted here.

If you have any questions, please call 480-727-0420, or write to indianlegalclinic@asu.edu.